Differ On Road Measure

Apportionment Of Money To States On Highway Plan Is Congress Debate

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today the principal Senate-House difference over the big highway construction bill is how to apportion money to the states for the 40,000-mile interstate system.

Gore, author of the Senate version of the bill, said in an interview he was sure a satisfactory compromise would be worked out, but that the apportionment problem could prove a real stickler. The House passed its bill by a whopping 389-19 vote Friday and sent it to the Senate, which has passed a different bill.

The House measure calls for a $4.5-billion-dollar federal-state spending program over the next 15 years. It is designed to modernize the nation's road system so it can handle the vastly expanded traffic load. The bill also provides 15 billions in new U. S. taxes over a 16-year period to help pay the federal share of the cost.

The Gore bill, passed by the Senate last May, sets up a five-year, 18-billion-dollar federal-state program.

The Tennesseean predicted that the Senate, inacting on the construction features of the House bill, would substitute the provisions of his measure and then send the whole package to conference.

Both the Gore bill and the House version allot most of the new money to the interstate system, to consist largely to superhighways linking up all parts of the nation.

The Gore bill uses the formula now in the existing federal road law, which gives two-thirds weight to population, one-sixth to area, and one-sixth to road mileage.

The House measure bases its apportionment on the needs of each state to complete its portion of the interstate system. These needs are set out in the Clay report, which was the basis of the road program President Eisenhower sent to Congress last year.

UN Chief Seeks Enduring Peace In Middle East

CAIRO, Egypt, April 28 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld met with Egyptian leaders today in an effort to translate the cease-fire agreement with Israel into an enduring Middle East peace.

The close-mouthed U. N. Secretary General flew here from Beirut, Lebanon, for what likely will be the last round of his mission before reporting to the Security Council. He was closeted in short order with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

Hammarskjöld came here after obtaining the pledges of Egypt, Israel and Syria to a cease-fire along their borders, and conditional pledges from two other Arab states, Lebanon and Syria. The result has been a decided lowering of tension.

He was primarily interested on his second visit to Cairo in physical arrangements for making the cease-fire stick along the Israeli-Egyptian front.

Suggestions for such arrangements have included an increase in the number of U. N. truce observers, mobile patrols, observation posts for U. N. personnel at strategic border points, and the withdrawal of troops from immediate contact on either side of the demarcation line.

Lyndon Johnson Goes To Texas For Rest

AUSTIN, Tex., April 28 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Senate majority leader, said today he had come to Texas to rest for two or three days and had no comment to make on any public matter.

HISS ADDRESSES STUDENTS—Convicted perjurer Alger Hiss, addressing a group of students at Princeton University on foreign policy, answers a question from the student at lower right in an atmosphere of classroom calm. Hiss' appearance on the campus was an orderly event in contrast to the controversy which arose when he was invited by the American Whig-Clubsophic Society, an undergraduate debating group, to give an address. Work Starts This Week—Flower's Begins Expansion Program, Installs Escalator

The C. W. Flower Dry Goods Company will undertake the largest expansion program in its 52-year history this week.

The second floor, which was previously used for various offices, will provide room for the increasing volume of trade and enable Flower's to add several new lines.

Since the opening of the first store at 314 South Ohio, Flower's has continued to grow and expand with the city.

Shortly after the opening of the first store, it was changed from a dry goods store and expanded to carry other lines of merchandise.

Since the dry goods name is accepted as a name for department stores, the name was carried as the same except for a period of time when W. H. Barnett was interested in the business. For a short time the store was known as Flower-Barnett. The store resumed its original name in 1919.

Flower's moved to its present location late in 1906 soon after the building was completed. The firm has been the only tenant of its first floor quarters. The building is owned by Mrs. Katherine C. McGrath, after whom it is named.

After Mr. Flower's death in 1930, his widow and daughter, Mrs. Virginia Flower, took over the management. C. D. Hieronymus became interested in the business in March, 1946. Since that time the store has been under the management of Hieronymus and Mrs. Virginia Flower.

Cramer and Schrader Construction Co. has the contract for remodeling, which will include extending the front display window to include the doorway that is now the entrance to the second floor. The second floor will have fitting rooms along with additional merchandising area that will be easily accessible by way of the new escalator. The escalator will be on the north side of the store. The present plans are to have the program completed by fall.

Flower's will take in the entire second floor in the program which will add 6,000 square feet of floor space. The escalator will be the first in the Central Missouri area.

Sees No Rebellion To Veto

Farm Belt Retort Doesn't Develop; Ike, GOP's Push For Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower appears to have outmaneuvered congressional Democrats who thought they had him over a political barrel because of his farm bill veto.

In the nearly two weeks since the President's rejection of the measure there have been few signs of the kind of farm belt rebellion against the action that some Democrats were counting upon.

Similarly, Republican complaints against the veto have died to a whisper in Congress. There is every indication of almost solid GOP support for new farm legislation the President would find acceptable.

This, plus some Democratic backing, may deliver to the President's desk in the next few weeks a soil bank measure designed to put some government checks in the hands of farmers before they go to the polls in November.

Democratic leaders have said they won't go along with the President's advance payment plan. Under it farmers who sign up to take land out of cultivation would get immediately 50 per cent of the amount due them when they comply fully with the contract.

Congressional Republicans are convinced that in a showdown many Democrats will hesitate before voting against a proposal which would give farm income a shot in the arm.

While the soil bank program holds out some hopes for income increases, Republicans are counting politically also on rising farm prices between now and election time.

These prices went up one per cent between mid-March and mid-April, continuing an upward trend which began in December.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said he thinks they will continue to rise. He said that is one reason he believes Democrats will make certain that this session passes some farm legislation.

No More Warning Tickets—

This Is It, Motorists! Better Slow Down! Radar On Monday

The days of courtesy warning tickets are over for those motorists caught in Sedalia's radar speed check.

Until the police could become thoroughly familiar with the use of the radar system, warning tickets have been issued to motorists checked at excessive speed by the system except in cases where the violation was extreme.

Police have averaged around 10 warning tickets in a two hour period each day since they started using the system.

Starting Tuesday, May 1, motorists will be arrested and will suffer the consequences.

The radar beam will pick up cars in two directions at a distance of approximately 175 feet. The force with which this beam is met determines the record on the graph meter that will register any speed from zero to 150 miles per hour.

Another meter acts as a double check and tells the operator instantly what speed a motorist is traveling. If a violation is recorded, the operator radios the information to an interceptor car that is waiting a short distance away. The operator writes the license number of the vehicle making the Danny Podgarnik, who was born in Gorizia, Italy, a town of 50,000 near Trieste, and is now employed at the Town and Country Shoe Co., was auditioned and selected down to the last three for Ted Mack's Amateur Hour program on television Sunday but lost out because of his inability to speak English well enough.

Dan loves to sing and to play the accordion and is very talented. He will make his first appearance before Sedalia audiences Monday at the meeting of the Willing Tilters Sunday School Class of Epworth Church. The program will be presented at the church at 7:30 p.m.

In Gorizia where his father owns a cobbler shop Dan helped him make handcrafted shoes and sportsman's boots. He came to America this year and to Town and Country in Sedalia. The wages, he said, are high in America and he does like the country. One of these days he hopes to become a citizen. He is residing at the home of his foreman, Charlie Sebeck.

Man, 51, Questioned In Young Girl's Death

*Of course we haven't actually counted all the Joneses. But it seems a safe guess. Because this year—as they have year after

Clean-Up Period Is Also Time To Stress Safety

The Clean Up period is also safety time, and it's a wise parent who takes this opportunity to check on where the children are playing. Even the most careful motorist can't always swerve to miss darting childish figures. The safest place for children is in their backyard or neighborhood play areas. Almost any yard provides enough space for horseshoes or croquet. And for your make-believers, an old blanket, sheet, or spread discovered in your attic clean-up, will become a "gang" tent, providing much adventure and amusement.

Some of the dilapidated wooden furniture discarded from basement or garage can be given a coat of paint and then it will provide the furnishings for a wonderful outdoor play house. A bushel basket mounted on the garage still provides wonderful basket ball practice, with your special team member out of the street.

If your neighborhood is clearing a vacant lot, a rough baseball diamond or a football field is a possibility. Family garden plots, with a friendly rivalry among neighbors for the fastest growing or biggest flowers and vegetables, will stimulate some youthful farming.

Remember, one of the purposes of Clean Up Week is promotion of safety. A bit of thinking and a few "props" can transform your yard or neighborhood lot into your children's favorite playground — and the dangerous street will be deserted as a play haunt.

JEFFERSON CITY — "Buy a Brick — Help Build a Better State," membership slogan for the 1956 Missouri Association for Social Welfare membership campaign was dramatized here this week when the Honorable C. Rouss Gallop, Director of the State Welfare Division, "purchased" a specially engraved brick and became an official member of the Association. The Saleswoman is Mrs. Hugh P. Williamson, of Fulton, president of MASW. The half-century old health and welfare organization is seeking to enlist 500 more Missourians in its ranks during its annual membership drive which will continue through April and May.

Social Welfare Association Seeks 55 New Members Here

The Rev. Edward R. Sims, chairman, West Central Division of the Missouri Association for Social Welfare announced today that 55 new members from this division will be sought in MASW's statewide drive April 16-30 for 500 new members.

"MASW," Rev. Sims said, "is a statewide, non-profit organization organized more than 50 years ago for the purpose of protecting and advancing the health and welfare of all Missouri citizens."

"For 1956, more than 1500 members of MASW have pledged all out support of an eight point program designed to promote the improvement of public and private social services and to prevent poverty, crime and disease in the State of Missouri."

Lincoln Senior Class Has Banquet at School

"Starlight in Paris" was the theme of the Lincoln High School Senior Formal Banquet held Friday night, April 20, at the high school auditorium.

The turkey dinner was prepared by PTA mothers and served by a number of sophomore boys and girls attired in the traditional black and white uniforms of France.

The dinner, held under a blue and white crepe paper sky studded with silver stars, was served at four long tables covered with blue and white, the class colors, and centered with arrangements of red carnations, given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis.

After the dinner, Kay Christian and Glen Lehman, Jr., sang a duet. Three students, Leroy Davis, junior class president, Miss Ella Marie Lang, senior class president and Carol Reicke spoke before the group.

The main speaker of the evening, Ray Nelson, school superintendent, chose as his topic, the senior class motto, "Second Best Is Never Good Enough." He also composed 19 verses with names of class members as the central thought.

Members of the junior class presented a musical program. Walter White Jr., entertainment committee member, presented music for dancing.

The banquet and entertainment was in charge of the junior class and its sponsors, Mrs. Homer Brady and Miss Nora Brisley.

New Furniture Styled to Budget And Provides for Home Growth

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

To buy or not to buy what you don't really need and can't quite afford is a question that often faces young couples shopping for their first furniture. This is a particular puzzler if you want matching pieces. Dare you buy the storage chest you need this spring and then save toward the purchase of the matching cabinet next fall? Can you add new units next year or the year after, at your convenience?

There is no pat answer. Sometimes it does happen that a well-ballyhooed collection is here one season and gone the next. And purchasers who had hope to add new pieces are then out of luck. If you're buying furniture on sale, it may be that the line has been discontinued and you'll be unable to match it later. I bought one pretty walnut twin bed at such a sale and am sorry I didn't heed the salesman's urging to buy its mate because now we could use both—and can't match the one we have. On the other hand, designs that sell well can stay in a line for five, ten or even 25 years. Most of the large furniture manufacturers, mindful of business and proud of their workmanship, exercise great care in developing a new line, hoping that it will enjoy steady demand. A skeleton collection of a few pieces may be introduced first and matching pieces added during succeeding seasonal markets.

An intelligent, reliable furniture dealer can give you a good estimate of the general sales picture an probable future of a style you're considering.

Another factor to consider is the stronger emphasis today on coordinating pieces and inter-changeable designs that will fit in different combinations. Flexibility increases the value to young couples who may live in several homes before they put down roots. It encourages them to add matching pieces as needed.

A good example of this emphasis is a new, medium-priced group. One branch of the styling veers toward straight contemporary in design. A similarly size branch has an early American accent with antique brass hardware and "pepper box" facades on some pieces.

Both are conservative enough to blend into many settings. Both were developed with the idea that the collection would be a stable one which would grow with the years. Both are constructed of solid mahogany and the finishes are offered in a soft milk brown and a warm golden amber.

The flexible styling of units is underscored by flush ends, consistent heights, removable bases in some pieces, finished backs to provide for a multitude of room arrangement possibilities. In the first grouping, there are a variety of desks, commodes, dressers, chests and beds. The storage pieces can be arranged in drop-level effects, stack-on and side-by-side groupings.

Two of the versatile, new designs that catch my attention are a long, low window chest and a corner table.

The two-drawer window cabinets are 36 inches long and about 22 inches high, designed to fit under or in front of picture windows and the like. And they're also just about right size to brace the foot of a footless bed. The corner table with one drawer suggests a corner storage grouping with chests or cabinets of the same height. (This makes use of floor space usually wasted in such arrangements.)

Life Sunday. The committee chairman, Alita Mae Chevalier, reported that three 4-H clubs, Busy Beavers, LaMonte, and Pleasant Green, will take part in Rural Life Sunday, May 6, at the Methodist Church in LaMonte. Plans were also made for a wiener roast at Montserrat Park May 17 for the next meeting.

Demonstrations on the posture and home furnishings II will be given by Sue Horne and Alita Mae Chevalier. The time of the meeting is 7:30.

Lions Prepare
For Annual
Broom Sale

With the arrival of a large supply of Missouri Blind manufactured brooms, mops, and other clean-up equipment, the Sedalia Lions Club is well prepared to participate with Sedalia's Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up week of May 7-14, by holding its third annual broom sale.

In the past, proceeds from such sales have been used to purchase white canes for the Blind of Pettis County, televisual testing equipment for both the Sedalia Public and Provincial schools, equipment for the Crippled Children's Center as well as assisting many locally handicapped persons.

The proceeds from this year's sale are to be used to purchase a whirlpool bath and other needed items for the local Crippled Children's Center, a project the Lions Club is very interested in.

In order to contact personally as many people who will want to participate in such a worthy cause a system has been devised for the individual club members, or their wives, to telephone all homes in the city of Sedalia in the near future. Orders will be taken at this time and delivery will be made at a later date.

Business and industrial organizations will be personally contacted for their orders.

Anniversary
Of Series 'E'
Savings Bonds

May 1 (Tuesday) is the 15th Anniversary of Series "E" U. S. Savings Bonds. After Pearl Harbor they became familiar to us all as the famous "War Bonds" which raised so much money to wage and win World War II.

During the last fifteen years, 40 million Americans have bought forty billion dollars' worth of "E" bonds.

One of the primary purposes of these Bonds was to spread our large national debt among individuals. Today 21 per cent of the debt is in Savings Bonds and by far the greater part of that 21 per cent is in "E" Bonds.

There are 45 million American citizens owning "E" and its companion "H" Bonds. That is 1,000 dollars apiece for every man woman and child in the United States.

Missouri was the first state organized for the planned promotion of Series "E" Bonds. State headquarters then, as now, were in Jefferson City and there was a small force of three employees in 1941.

May Fellowship Day—
United Church Women Will Meet at Calvary Episcopal

"Who tells you what to think?" Mrs. C. F. Scotten, will put this question squarely to United Church women who meet on Friday, May 4, at 12:30 in Calvary Episcopal Church to join in the observance of May Fellowship Day.

A dramatization, "They Say," will illustrate the prairie fire rapidly with which rumor and half-truth spread to become damaging propaganda. In the dramatization will be nine women: Mrs. T. E. Gasperson, Mrs. D. F. Richards, Mrs. Walter Austin, Mrs. Clarence Reicker, Mrs. Ernest Liebel, Mrs. John Miers, Mrs. Glenn Cox, Mrs. Phillip Hoffman and Mrs. Emory Myers.

After the play, which will highlight the ease with which rumor and malicious gossip start and grow, there will be a discussion on how propaganda starts and develops from the Big Lie, the Hot Potato, change of pace, unvarnished truth and virtue-by-association and just plain careless gossip.

May Fellowship Day sponsored locally by the United Church Women of Sedalia is one of thousands of annual observances scheduled by United Church Women for the first Friday in May. United Church Women represents ten million women of the Protestant and Orthodox churches in the United States and is a unit of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

"A true Christian still follows quite literally the advice of Saint Paul and listens to and repeats only that 'which is true, honest, just, and of good report,'" says Mrs. S. W. Milner of Atlanta, Georgia, national chairman for planning of the 1956 May Fellowship Day. "Before repeating any story the responsible Christian citizen, says whether this is fact or fiction, how he can find out more about it and then if it is not true how he can most effectively correct the error and spread the truth," Mrs. Milner continues.

"Each individual's opinion is of tremendous importance—what you believe actually weakens or strengthens the moral leadership of your country."

May Fellowship Day, born of a small meeting of Christian women in New York during the dark days of 1933, has grown to include women across the whole nation. It is one of three annual Days in which United Church Women meet to pray and work for better communities and the peace of the world—World Community Day, the first Friday in November, and the World Day of Prayer on the first Friday of Lent are the two others.) This year

½ billion dollars' worth of U. S. Savings Bonds are owned by Missourians.

Heart Disease In Women Shows Sharp Increase

CHICAGO — Evidence that a sharp increase in heart disease in women may have started about 1940 was reported by two doctors today.

The study was based on autopsies performed over a 45-year period at Barnes General Hospital, St. Louis.

The type of heart disease studied was myocardial infarction, a destruction of heart muscle tissue caused by hardening of the arteries.

Drs. Kyu Taik Lee and Wilbur A. Thomas of St. Louis, found:

1. From 1910 to 1939, the autopsy records showed twice as many men as women had myocardial infarction. But from 1940 to 1954 the number was almost the same—1.1 men to 1 woman.

2. There was an overall 20-fold increase in the incidence of the disease in the 1940-54 period, compared with 1910-1939.

3. The peak of incidence occurred later in females than in males. The incidence rose steadily with age in women. But in males it became stationary at 60 to 80 years of age, then declined.

4. The incidence in the cases studied was proportionately higher in white persons than in Negroes.

5. The social and economic sta-

Karen Smith Pledges National Fraternity

Karen Marlene Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith, Green Ridge, was one of five students formally initiated as an active member of Tau Chapter of Phi Beta Fraternity at the Swinney Conservatory of Music, Central College, Fayette. She was elected to the national honorary fraternity by the recommendation of a faculty advisor through the medium of audition. Thirteen music major students were chosen to audition before the chapter for election into the fraternity. During the weeks of pledging, Miss Smith followed the rules of the fraternity and composed an original composition and wrote an autobiography.

Miss Smith, who graduated from Green Ridge High School, class of 1955, is a second semester freshman at Central, and is studying piano and organ. She is an accompanist for several voice major students at the college.

tus of persons in the cases studied was not an important factor.

6. Diabetes mellitus was much commoner in patients with acute myocardial infarction than it was in the general group autopsied.

Other medical studies have indicated the disease is from three to seven times as prevalent in men as in women.

Breakthrough Is Not Enough

The past 12 months have seen an important breakthrough in the fight against mental illness—the successful use of drugs in treating some of the mentally ill. While medical treatment has always been considered an important part of the total therapy used with the mentally ill, never has the introduction of a new medical treatment brought such a surge of hope as has been created by the use of these drugs.

Hospital reports tell of dramatic recoveries of patients who had been seriously ill and "out of touch with reality" for many years. They tell of the recovery of patients with whom all other treatment methods had failed. But almost without exception, these reports issue a note of caution. They point out that these drugs are effective only with some mental illnesses, that they work with some patients and not with others, that they often do only part of the job, the rest being accomplished by the treatment method known as psychotherapy.

Thus, while there is every reason to be hopeful about the use of these new drugs in treating the mentally ill, there is also reason to realize that these drugs are not a "cure-all" for the mentally ill nor an "end-all" to mental illness.

There is need for a tremendous amount of additional research to improve these and other treatment methods and to discover new ones. There is a need for the use of all appropriate treatment methods with all mental patients and not just with the few who are getting treatment today. There is a need for the training of thousands of additional psychiatrists and other professional personnel to treat and carry on research. There is need for thousands of additional psychiatric clinics to treat the people with the less severe mental disorders, and to keep many of them from having to become mental hospital patients.

This need can only be met through public interest and action. During Mental Health Week, April 29 to May 5, the citizens of this community and thousands of others throughout the country will have a chance to learn more about mental illness and what they can do to fight it.

Dr. G. Wilse Robinson, Kansas City, will speak at the Little Theatre of the Smith-Cotton High School Thursday night, May 3. This prominent psychiatrist will give us the facts on mental illness and tell us what we might do in an effort to promote mental health in our community. Let us make this community one of many in Missouri which will have an established Mental Health Unit of the National Association for Mental Health. Let us unite to keep our community one in which mental health can thrive by learning how we can combat mental illness. This is our job—yours and mine. Join in the efforts to fight mental illness—our nation's No. 1 health problem. Give to the National Association for Mental Health. Contributions can be sent in care of The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. Money is needed now—to carry on research, to increase facilities for treatment of the mentally ill and to establish Mental Health Centers where emotional illness can be diagnosed early and treated before, not after, institutional care becomes necessary.

This need is urgent! Mental Health Week is the time to do something about this problem.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

How An Influence Peddler Got His Job

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Some people have lifted their eyebrows over the fact that I recently helped get a job for John Maragon, the Kansas City bootblack and influence peddler whom I earlier helped send to jail. They recall that it was partly over Maragon and his friend Gen. Harry Vaughan that President Truman called me some choice epithets; so some readers wonder whether I've gone soft of late.

It's true that Maragon's trip to Potsdam with the President, his denouement of Gen. Wm. L. Lee, his dabbling in black-market diamonds at Potsdam, his gifts of black-market perfume to various cabinet ladies were first exposed in this column. He retaliated by calling me a liar, and later was convicted of perjury.

However, John Maragon was a little frog way over his head in a big pond. He was nowhere near as bad as some of the really big influence peddlers, both then and now. And having served his time, it seems to me he deserves a break. The job he has as laborer in the House folding room isn't going to hurt the taxpayers, and all reports are that he's more than earning his modest pay.

How to Get Free Literature

Some interesting things have been taking place in the House folding room where John Maragon, the ex-influence peddler, is now employed. They occurred before he got his job, and involve the man he is supposed to have replaced—Ralph Scalzo. Actually Scalzo lost his job on Jan. 30, two months before Maragon was hired. Nevertheless, GOP Congressman William Ayres of Akron made headlines by charging that Scalzo was fired to make room for Maragon.

Here are the interesting facts, however, as to why Scalzo was fired:

The House folding room is a place where Congressmen get speeches folded and mailed out to voters free. They can also get booklets on baby care, and various government documents mailed to the home folks either at cost or — up to a certain limit — free.

House doorkeeper Luke Hicks has now obtained sworn affidavits to the effect that extra documents, beyond the congressman's quota, were delivered to the office of Congressman Ayres under the direction of Scalzo, the man Ayres didn't want fired.

"On several occasions," states an affidavit by Otis Small, a laborer in the folding room, "I was ordered by Ralph Scalzo to deliver to Congressman Ayres 300 'How Our Laws Are Made.'"

"The secretary in the congressman's office told me to put them down by one of the desks in the office. There was no order taken by me and none signed by the secretary."

Another folding room laborer, William H. Brooker, reports that last summer Scalzo told him to deliver about 100 copies of the $2 agriculture yearbook to Ayres, plus about 40 or 50 maps, about 500 copies of "How Our Laws Are Made," and three cases of a booklet on infant care.

Congressman Ayres was entitled to 40 free copies of "How Our Laws Are Made." Beyond that he was supposed to pay 15 cents each. A congressman is allowed 400 copies of the agriculture yearbook and 50 maps in toto. The allotment for baby care booklets is much more generous — 500 per month.

This was the reason Scalzo was fired. It was not to make room for John Maragon.

Diplomatic Pouch

The U. S. has quietly banned the shipment of luxury cars to Indo-China. The reason: rich natives were driving around in big Cadillacs while the poor were still starving. This was so bad for the people's morale that American advisers recommended halting automobile imports to Indochina, except strictly for relief and rehabilitation work. . . . Dictator Franco of Spain has offered his good offices to help the West settle its troubles with the Arab world. The offer was delivered personally to President Eisenhower by Spanish Foreign Minister Don Alberto Ariza, who pointed out that Spain has close ties with the Arab leaders, particularly since he granted independence to Spanish Morocco. . . . The Navy has reliable intelligence that Russia now has the world's largest underwater navy — over 400 submarines. Russia is also building new submarines at the rate of 85 a year. Yet the admirals are so busy feuding with the Air Force over air power that they have neglected our anti-submarine defenses. Sub chasers and other anti-sub weapons are still far down the Navy's priority list.

S.S. John Paul Jones

The U. S. Navy finally has a new ship bearing the full name of John Paul Jones. This new 418 foot vessel was commissioned at the Boston Naval Yards on April 5 and is the second in a new class of ten New England-built destroyers. These new ships have fire power vastly superior to that of any earlier craft of the type and are equipped with the latest anti-submarine devices.

Honor to John Paul Jones, the first American naval officer to set a tradition of victory, has always been posthumously awarded. Jones was among the foremost warriors of the Revolution and is credited with never losing a ship and his famous words during the battle of the Rich and the British Serapis when his own men wanted to surrender were: "I have not yet begun to fight."

Jones saw Russia as a rear admiral and also won great acclaim in Paris when he became seriously ill and died. After lying for one hundred years in an unmarked grave in Paris, his body was brought to this country in 1905 to rest with distinction in the chapel of the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis.

There have been four ships in the United States Navy named Paul Jones, but the one recently commissioned is the first to be christened John Paul Jones — the full name of the founder of the American Navy.

And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful. — Titus 3:14.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Muscles, Tendons Prone To Attacks of Soreness

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Myositis means inflammation of the muscle. The word is often used in the same sense as muscular rheumatism.

Tendinitis is inflammation of tendons and tendon muscle attachments.

Tendons, incidentally, are cords of tissue which do not have the power of contraction as muscles do, but which run from a muscle end to the bone or other structure to which they are attached.

There is also another condition known as tenosynovitis which is defined as inflammation of a tendon sheath or the thin membrane surrounding a tendon.

There are a number of other names which are often attached to pains in the muscles or related structures which cannot be blamed on any definite form of neuritis or arthritis. Among such terms are myofascitis, fibrofascitis, myalgia, panniculitis, periarthritis, and no doubt, others.

Quite often it is difficult to separate one of these conditions from another and it is often hard to know what caused them. Sometimes the finger of blame can be placed squarely on some sudden or long continued strain or injury, sometimes on infection elsewhere in the body such as abscessed teeth or infected tonsils, and sometimes on such circumstances as chilling or exposure to a draft.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

In spring improvements at the Sedalia Country Club stone posts at the north entrance were moved to the south entrance and concrete slab, 60 feet wide, was laid. A hard surfaced parking ground was also completed.

Interior work on Sedalia's new post office was rapidly being completed and, according to plans, it was to be in readiness for occupancy by July 1.

E. E. Brasfield, county agent, expressed belief that fruit was not damaged to any great extent by recent frost. Strawberries, in bloom, seemed to be hardest hit.

John W. Palmer, former congressman, was to preside Sunday, April 26, at the 112th anniversary of founding of the IOOF organization of America. An appropriate program was scheduled for the observance at the First Methodist Church.

Forty years ago John L. Sullivan, candidate for the nomination for secretary of state by the Democrats, returned from visits to Springfield, Carthage and Joplin.

The Buffalo Bill-101 Ranch Shows exhibited here afternoon and night and the famous old scout himself appeared in the parade at 1:30 p.m. and also in the shows at Liberty Park.

At the meeting of the city council Mayor J. L. Babcock suggested an ordinance be prepared requiring city licenses for operation of automobiles by Sedalians in the city.

W. E. Williams, general manager for the MKT, was in Sedalia in his private car 40¢ and spent the night here on company business.

treatment may have to be tried before relief can be obtained. Hot baths or other forms of heat, carefully chosen exercise, and sometimes massage may be of benefit. Immobilization with splint or cast is occasionally helpful in localized disorders.

Occasionally, the use of pain-killing drugs may have to be considered. These must be taken with care, and milder ones such as aspirin are safer than strong ones.

Liniments or ointments such as the old-fashioned mustard plaster will sometimes help, but should not be used too long as they may merely give relief while concealing a serious condition.

Most of us have had one or more attacks of one of these conditions and have recovered, thus the outlook for recovery is usually good.

Ruth Millett Says—

One Determined Member Can Hold Family Together

Either a mother or father, or both, can do a great deal to keep brothers and sisters close after they have scattered across the country to make homes of their own.

One father managed this by writing family letters and making enough carbons as he wrote so that each child received a copy.

The family letter worked even better than individual letters. It could be long and newsy and in reading the father's special remarks to each son and daughter all had the feeling of a family discussion, even though it was not around the dinner table as it had been in the old days.

A mother accomplishes the same thing by sending on the letters received from one child to another with a notation to mail after reading to still another child, and so on until the letter completes the rounds of the family.

Another mother encourages family closeness by maintaining the family farm, even though she lives there alone most of the year. By so doing she made it possible for children and grandchildren to have a happy meeting place for summer vacations.

It is sad for a family to drift apart simply because they live far from each other and are busy with their own lives.

And it is entirely unnecessary. One member of the family—mother, father, son or daughter — can prevent it by taking on the job of keeping each member of the family informed about the others.

In a family there should be no

Stray Flower

The flower there in our garden grew,
Just how it got there no one knew.
And no one seemed to know the name
Of this rare flower the shade of flame;
And yet, it grew where all could see,
Each pondered o'er what it could be;
It bloomed and bloomed all summer through
Then died with autumn as flowers do.
It lasted only one short year,
We watched, would it again appear?
But no, one season, that was all.
Yet often now we still recall
The bright spot in the yard it made,
How it into our garden strayed
And gave its beauty for awhile
As sometimes we have seen a smile,
A quick, gay smile, a friendly word,
That somehow our emotions stirred,
Some unexpected gift or deed,
Some extra help that we might need,
A little note of thanks or praise,
Something that brightens up our days,
A visit from an old time friend,
A little leisure time to spend
With someone you have liked so much
And maybe through the years lost touch,
A courteous thing some stranger did,
A bright "Hello" for just a kid.
These are so like the flower of red
Such joy and beauty do they spread,
Brief moments that your path they crossed,
Yet, never quite completely lost;
For they live always as a thought
Of happiness that they have brought.

As Sedalia Sees It—

'Lady of Freedom' Can't Look Back on Washington, D. C.

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Democrat-Capitol
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — It's house cleaning time on Capitol Hill. Every fourth Spring the big dome of the United States Capitol and the "Lady of Freedom" majestically atop the dome some 285 feet from the ground get a good scrubbing and refurbishing by 40 painters.

This clean-up of the cast-iron dome, which measures 135 feet and 8 inches in diameter at base and the 194 feet tall "Lady", is neatly timed for the Spring just before an inaugural year.

All of which costs money. An estimated $50,000 will be spent, according to the Capitol architect,

J. George Stewart, on such things as 1,000 gallons of paste paint, 250 gallons of raw oil, 475 gallons of turpentine and 25 gallons of drying material. The job will take 180 days.

Since its construction in civil war days, the dome has had 30 coats of paint applied.

For some reason, every tourist assumes the figure atop the Capitol dome is an Indian. But the "Lady of Freedom" has been the symbol of liberty since 1863. It is the work of sculptor Thomas Crawford, in Rome, and was barely completed before his death in 1857.

The Lady is clothed in flowing robes with her right hand resting on the hilt of a sheathed sword, her left hand holding a wreath and a shield. An emblem near the base bears the letters "U.S." and her liberty helmet is adorned with stars, Indian feathers and an American Eagle. Platinum points in her crown assist in her service as a lightning rod for the protection of the Capitol.

Some wonder why the Lady turns her back on the city of Washington. When she mounted the dome, it was thought the city would grow to the East which she faces. But it didn't!

Mary Jane Truman not only was invited, but she got there, just in the nick of time.—H. L.

MAKING JELLY and canning things was a new venture for a woman who had just moved on a farm and she was having the time of her life. She didn't want a thing to go to waste, she wanted everything canned or made into jelly. That year a damson plum tree was loaded down with plums and she picked plums and picked them but since she had been canning all sorts of things she began to run out of jars and glasses. She filled every glass container she had with the plum jelly and still had lots of it left. She didn't know what in the world she would put it in, then in her search she found an old fish bowl. That would certainly take care of the rest of her jelly, she thought, so she just washed it out good and filled it with jelly. Luckily she had no gold fish that might have missed their swimming pool for as intent as she was on finding glass containers for jelly she would never have considered the fish. Yet, now, she might have come up with jelly-fish. — H. L.

It was way in the middle of the night and the couple was fast asleep when suddenly there was a terrible cracking, crashing noise brought them both out of bed simultaneously.

"What was that?" they asked each other and she made a dash for a nearby bedroom where their little daughter was sleeping. She was their first thought. Had she fallen out of bed?

The mother turned on the light and looked. The youngster was sleeping peacefully. She was all right, for which they were thankful. They looked all around the house but could find nothing. They took a peek out doors but the night was still and calm.

When they couldn't find the source of the noise they went back to bed and to sleep.

It was the next day that the little girl opened the closet door in the bedroom of her parents and giggled. "Mother," she called, "I can't see your shoes." And she giggled some more.

Her mother went in and there in the closet was the biggest mess of clothes she had ever seen. The reason the little girl couldn't see her mother's shoes was because they were covered up with clothes, her mother's best dresses, her dad's recently cleaned suits — the pole had broken and everything was on the closet floor.

The little girl still thought it was funny, she giggled some more. But her mother and daddy could not see a thing funny about it. The only good thing was that it did solve the mystery of the crashing noise in the night and they were grateful that crash wasn't anything worse than the breaking of the big pole in the clothes closet. But they still couldn't see anything funny about it. — H. L.

Home Agent Aide To Speak At Maplewood

Pat Wetherell Smith, International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to Israel in 1955 will speak of her experiences at Maplewood Community Hall on May 6, 1956. Mrs. Smith, 1955 graduate of the University of Missouri with a B. S. in home economics, is the assistant home agent in Boone County. Her home is Rochepot.

While in Israel, Mrs. Smith lived with seven farm families for six months in different areas of the country. Living and working with her host families provided an opportunity for Mrs. Smith to observe and discuss the customs, life and culture of Israel. She returned home in December.

Mrs. Smith is one of 18 Missouri IFYE delegates who have gone to other countries to exchange American ideas and customs with those whom they visit. The program was established in 1948 by the National 4-H Club Foundation and the Agricultural Extension Service. Other countries also send delegates to visit farm families in Missouri and other states.

The program was developed with the idea that by the exchange of farm youth the people of the world will gain a better understanding of each other and thus will help to promote world peace.

Mrs. Smith will be the featured speaker for the Maplewood 4-H Club for their Rural Life Sunday program. Their program starts at 7:00 p.m. with a contributive dinner served by the Maplewood 4-H Club and the Maplewood Better Homes Club. The evening program will be opened with a scripture reading and prayer by Mr. James Ellis. The Maplewood 4-H members will render several musical selections and Miss Wanda Singley will give several numbers on her accordion.

Each Maplewood 4-H family has invited another 4-H family from another club as their guests for the dinner and program. Members of Maplewood community are cordially invited to attend this Rural Life Sunday program.

Where Your Decorating Dollar Goes Farther

If you're saving for your family's future...

Where you save does make a difference

Saving now makes a difference to your family's future. There's a difference where you save, too. Saving in an insured Savings and Loan Association means important advantages.

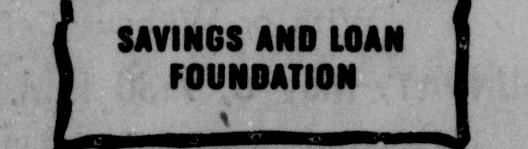

Excellent returns from your money is one advantage. Another is efficient service from men who know how to make your dollars work harder for you.

And, of course, your money is safe because in insured Associations your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—an agency of the U. S. Government.

These are the reasons why Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else!

Start saving with your local insured Association tomorrow!

Nation Will Observe Home Demonstration Week April 29

The 11th annual National Home Demonstration Week will be observed April 29 to May 5 by millions of women who take part in Home Economics Extension Clubs.

These homemakers throughout the land who take part in the educational program of the Agricultural Extension Service take the time to tell their neighbors about it and invite them to share its benefits.

In Missouri, members of extension clubs will observe the week by continuing their program on food and its role in family health and well being. This program was introduced by their State Council three years ago.

Supplementing the national theme, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World", with their own, "Food To Keep Us Strong and Able", Missouri's 47,000 extension club women will emphasize the importance of vitamin C — rich foods in the diet.

The vitamin C foods are Food Group 3 on the five-food groups chart, "A Missouri Plan for Good Eating". This one page chart is a meal planning guide adopted by the club women three years ago. Principal vitamin C foods are: oranges, grapefruit, tomatoes and their juices, raw green leaves, strawberries, cabbage, cantaloupes, and green peppers.

During the two preceding years, two other food groups received special emphasis: They were the animal proteins — meats and eggs; and the calcium-rich foods — milk and milk products.

Volunteer leaders throughout the state will use demonstrations, exhibits, and illustrated talk to point up the value of vitamin C foods in the diet.

Hannibal Residents Will Vote on Bond Issue, New Charter

HANNIBAL — Hannibal residents will vote next Tuesday on a $105,000 bond issue for a city-owned airport and a proposition to frame a new home rule charter.

Jack Schroeder, Democratic mayor who is finishing up his first two-year term in office, comes up for re-election but he has no opposition.

Another proposition in the election calls for increasing the benefits for retired members of the fire and police departments.

The present private airport, located west of town, would be taken over by the city and enlarged under terms of the bond issue.

The names of 13 candidates to draw up the new charter are included on the ballot for that phase of the election. The charter, after it is written, then must be approved by voters before it can be effective.

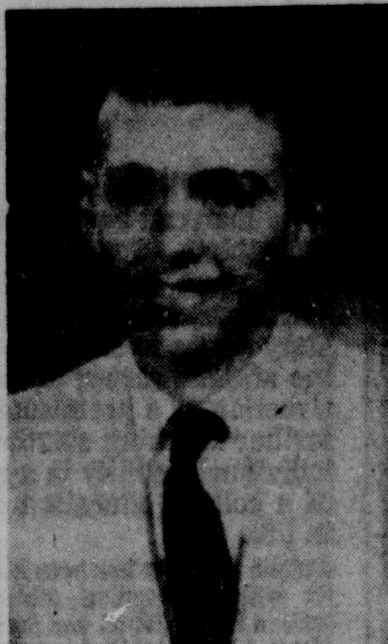

Hannibal now operates under a special charter granted by the State Legislature in 1907. Amendments to it must be approved by the Legislature. Under the new charter, plans call for residents' approval of proposed amendments through a vote.

Claims Many Drugs Work by Suggestion Instead of Chemistry

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO — Hundreds of drugs being used effectively against disease or pain probably work by suggestion rather than chemical activity, says a Chicago physician-hypnotist.

Sugar pills, given by doctors who want to placate their patients rather than dose them with medicine, have quite a reputation as healers and pain killers, Dr. William S. Kroger told 150 physicians and psychologists Friday in a seminar on hypnosis.

So many different kinds of medicine are used against psoriasis, a stubborn skin disease, that it is difficult to believe that each is effective against this single ailment, Dr. Kroger said. The only reasonable explanation for their success, he added, is that the people who take them believe in them.

Other medical reports, Dr. Kroger asserted, tell of effectively treating 3,500 cases of bed-wetting by hypnosis; of its being used successfully for deep anaes-

Tigers Eke Track Win Over Raytown Here Friday Night

Edge Bluejays 60-58 At Stadium; 'Van' Van Dyne Takes 23 Points For S-C, Cracks Hurdles Record

(By Vic Van Dyne)

The Smith-Cotton Tigers barely tripped the Raytown Bluejays by two points in a dual meet held Friday night at the Jennie Jaynes Memorial Stadium. The Tigers scored 60 to 58 points, the difference being two more third place winning positions than the opponents.

Sparked by Charles "Van" Van Dyne, who scored four firsts and one second place for a total of 23 points, the Tigers battled for the winning points. Van Dyne was first in high hurdles with a time of 1:14.9 breaking the stadium and school record and tied Lewis of De Soto for the best time in the state. "Van" held the old stadium and school record of 1:15.0. In low hurdles he made them in 20.8; won the high jump making a mark of 5' 9 1/2"; took the broad jump with a jump of 20 feet 11 inches. The only other event he competed in, the shot put, he placed second throwing the shot 46' 11".

The Tiger tracksters and Raytown tracksters scored seven firsts and six second places while in the third place winning column the Tigers had seven and Raytown five.

Cinching the win came in the high jump when the Tigers swept all three places. Going into the final event, the mile relay, the Tigers led 60-53 and Raytown collected the five points awarded the winner, to bring them up to the 58 point mark.

In 1955 the Bluejays defeated the Tigers in a dual meet by six points and the Sedalians were out to even up the wins.

The only record to fall was that of the 120-yard high hurdles won by Van Dyne while Blue of Raytown tied another, the 100-yard dash which was previously held by Chester O'Bannon of the Tigers, and Bill Webb of Jefferson City.

Norris Kelley, shotput and discus contestant of the Tiger team was not in the meet Friday night.

Player Trades Held By Babe Ruth League

The Babe Ruth League player sale was held the past week when sponsors and managers of the teams met with Rev. L. D. Garrison. Players were bought and sold by the managers to complete their 1956 rosters, during which time 41 players were sold at auction by Rev. Garrison, the player agent.

Of the players sold, 34 were boys in the 13-year-old bracket; six of the boys were 14 years old and one was 15 years old.

Several of the boys on the teams have not completed their requirements to play Babe Ruth baseball because they have not had their physical examination. Before any boy will be permitted to play he must obtain a physical examination and obtain their certificate to be turned in to the player agent. This is a necessary requirement before the boy can participate in either the practice sessions or regular league play.

The Babe Ruth schedule will get under way on Monday night May 23 at the Liberty Park diamond.

The following is the roster of the teams as to the present date, but managers will be allowed to make trades or release players and auction others from the player's pool until the 15th day after the season's play is started.

After Seven Years In Organized Ball—Buddy Thomas Makes Return To Sedalia Baseball Activity

John "Buddy" Thomas, prize product of Sedalia baseball, returns to the local diamond this season as player-manager of the Sedalia Athletics.

Although many fans and friends watched his career during seven seasons in professional ranks, few Sedalians have seen "Buddy" in action since he wound-up his Junior Legion career with the Post 16 team in 1946.

Considered one of the finest players ever developed on local sandlots by many baseball observers, "Buddy" climbed the professional ladder until he reached the majors with the St. Louis Browns in the latter part of the 1951 season.

His tenure in the Big Leagues was brief and his return to minor league competition a disappointment. The Browns badly needed a shortstop, besides about eight other players, in 1951 as they finished the season in the cellar, 46 games behind the pennant winning New York Yankees. Thomas' supporters felt he was possibly "the answer."

Playing 14 games with the Browns, he collected seven base hits in 20 times at bat for a .305 average. One of his hits was a home run. He also stole two bases.

In the field his glove work was perfect, handling 30 chances without a bobble. Most believed his late-season display of sharpness merited a good look in spring training, but it didn't. "Buddy" was shipped down to San Antonio in the Texas League for the 1952 season.

In 1945 "Buddy" played on the Post 16 Junior Legion team with "Salty" Shoemaker, Gene May, Ralph Walker, Ralph Waters, Joe Waters, Calvin Rodgers, Gary Tuggle and others. The team, with Gene May handling all mound chores, grabbed second place in the Missouri Junior Legion Tournament at St. Louis and "Buddy" was selected as a Junior Legion All-American and participated in the East-West Legion game at the Polo Grounds in New York as shortstop for the Western team.

Upon graduation from Smith-Cotton high school, where he starred as a guard on the Tiger basketball team, Thomas signed with the Browns and was assigned to the Bellville, Ill. Stags for the 1947 season.

In 1948 he moved to competition in the Arizona-Texas league with the Globe-Miami, Arizona club. In 1949 and 1950 he played with Marshall, Texas in the East Texas league.

1951 proved his banner season as a professional. Playing 127 games with the Dayton, Ohio Indians in the Class "A" Central League before being called-up to the Browns, Thomas hit at a .290 clip with 151 hits, including 41 doubles, eight triples, four circuit clouts and 75 runs-batted-in.

In 1952 he played with Memphis in the Southern Association and Scranton in the Eastern League, in addition to the San Antonio club.

Thomas returned to San Antonio in 1953 and played his last season in the play-for-pay ranks. In 1954 he played with a fast semi-pro club composed of former professionals, in Nebraska and in 1955 he attended summer school which forced his absence from baseball.

"Buddy" is employed in Sedalia as principal of Whittier grade school.

Dodger rookie second baseman Charley Neal hit 16 home runs for Montreal in 1955.

Bill McKechnie compiled a .523 percentage during 24 seasons as a manager in the National League.

Bill Sharman, who once had a trial as an outfielder with the Brooklyn Dodgers, led the Boston Celtics in scoring in the National Basketball Assn. last season with 1,434 points in 72 games.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

MODESTY is one of the most admirable virtues a man can have. This is especially true of the young, star athlete. Some boys can take and shoulder the glory piled upon their shoulders by their fellow students, neighbors, families, friends and fans. With others this glory seems to cause an inflation which in the end ruins the athletic career of many promising youngsters. Destruction of a promising athletic future often results in farther reaching sorrow because on the strength of an individual's ability in a given sport rests the opportunity of a college education and assistance for success later in life.

Sedalia this year has been blessed with outstanding athletes, both in Smith-Cotton and Sacred Heart high schools as well as was Jefferson City, Columbia, North Kansas City, Springfield, and several other towns with whom the local teams have competed. Some of these very towns have had the misfortune to see an athlete fall into the category of "not being able to take it" while others who have been very modest over their standing in the community made through their athletic competition.

I might point out, it is never too late to conquer the inflation and become a real sport, a real athlete and go on and be someone who his parents as well as his friends can refer to with pride.

SMITH-COTTON high school is again losing a popular and well versed track coach. Coach Norman James has been offered a position at William Christian high school in Independence, Mo., and he has indicated he is accepting, because of better possibilities for the future as well as more money to be made in accordance with the pay scale of the Independence school system.

James came to the local high school in the school year of 1950, and was called to military service and served for two years. He returned and succeeded Robert Karnes as head track coach. He has gradually built up a strong team which he hopes will repeat for the Central Missouri Conference track championship. His team is the defending track champions at the present time.

His opportunities are far greater than here in Sedalia as to both advancement in the athletic system as well as the money outlook. He goes to Independence as first assistant to Coach Dennis Stader in football, and assistant track coach which is expected to result eventually in a short time to head track coach. When the Christian school goes to its new high school building he has an opportunity to head up the physical education department.

Karnes took the step away from Smith-Cotton and went to Shawnee Mission, Kansas, and then bounded up to Drake University and now heads the Drake Relays.

James likes Sedalia, like Smith-Cotton, but he, like all young men desiring to climb the ladder, is taking his next step up. We all wish him lots of good luck on his move.

THE organizing of the Sedalia Athletics is going along far better than was anticipated several weeks ago. More interest is being exhibited by baseball players in the team than has been shown in past years, which will assure Sedalia baseball fans a real semi-pro team for the 1956 season.

The management hopes to bring into Sedalia some of the topnotch clubs of Missouri's semi-pro baseball. Letters have gone to all cities which have teams with outstanding records such as Springfield, Joplin, Kansas City, Jefferson City, St. Joseph, St. Louis, West Plains, Rolla, Cape Girardeau and others.

At West Plains, Preacher Roe, formerly of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has a semi-pro club which does considerable traveling. The Sedalia group wants them here and every effort is being made to sign up the club for at least one game.

The A's management also will probably schedule in the House of David and several nationally known traveling teams.

The team will open their 1956 season with a home game against the Moberly Ban Johnson representative at Liberty Park on Sunday night, May 13th.

Again playing in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League, the Sedalians will play 28 games in loop competition and the overall schedule will probably run near 40 games for the season.

Season memberships are on sale at the Sports Center and from team officials. Membership cards include the price of admission for all home games, with the exception of possible play-off tilts.

Moose Club Softball Team to Practice at Housel Park May 2

The Sedalia Moose Club softball team will hold practice at Housel Park at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday May 2. Softball players interested in trying out for the Moose Club team are requested to be at the park on time.

Fans Invited—Athletics Plan Squad Contest At Park Today

An inter-squad game, the first of the training season, is featured on the practice schedule for the Sedalia Athletics at Liberty Park this afternoon.

The A's will start their drills at noon and will wind-up practice at 3 p.m. in order to enable the Sedalia Ban Johnson club to conduct their initial work-out of the season.

Attempting to book a more definite schedule, the Athletics have postponed their home opener until Sunday afternoon, May 20th when they clash with the always tough Holden Chiefs. However, the club will kick-off the season with a practice game against Whiteman Air Force Base at the Air Base on May 6th. Following this contest, the Athletics will play two or three tune-up games with other unnamed teams prior to officially opening the 1956 season.

In connection with the first home appearance at Liberty Park, the Sedalia Athletic Association, sponsors of the Athletics, will start advance ticket sales on Monday for the Holden game.

Player-manager "Buddy" Thomas has had 26 hopefuls on hand for Friday evening's practice, the largest turn-out of the season. With baseball weather prevailing for the first time, the squad showed signs of shaping-up to expectations.

"Salty" Shoemaker, the only catching candidate, was forced to the sidelines Friday as a result of a minor foot operation earlier in the week. Although he is not expected to take part in the practice contest today, he will be ready for the scrimmage against the Whiteman Airmen next Sunday.

Sedalia baseball fans are invited to watch the Athletics go through training paces at all practice sessions at Liberty Park.

Purse Increased To $22,000; Dick Mayer Defends Title

KANSAS CITY, April 28 — The Kansas City Golf Open has been hiked to a $22,000 event this year and will be staged at Milburn Country Club with virtually all of the name pros competing from May 17-20.

Dick Mayer, 32-year-old Floridan is the defending champion. He posted a 72-hole total of 271 last year to win the top award of $4,000 at Hillcrest. It was his first major victory of the 1955 season. Mayer finished six strokes ahead of Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Chandler Harper of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The blond-haired Mayer had rounds of 69, 61, 68 and 67 for his spectacular score. He was 17 under par for the distance and for the last three days, fourteen under regulation figures.

Mayer was so accurate that he didn't have a bogey in the last 54 holes of play. He was "Mr. Steady" as he posted 27 pars and nine birdies on the final 36 holes of play. Also in the field will be Wally Ulrich, a former national inter-collegiate champion, who won the 1954 event at Blue Hills with a 288 record score over the 4-day carnival. Three years ago Ed (Porky) Oliver won with a 268 record to shatter the old mark of 271 set by Lloyd Mangrum in 1950.

The field also will have Dr. Cary Middlecoff, 1955 Masters champion; Jackie Burke, 1956 Masters titlist, Doug Ford, Tommy Bolt, Dave Douglas, Jim Turnesa, Bo Wimmer, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Marty Furgol, Johnny and Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Bud Holscher, Julius Boros, winner of the $50,000 Tam O'Shanter last year, George Bayer, longest driver in golf, and many others.

Mangrum is always a favorite in the Kansas City event. He still is a threat in every tournament and won at Palm Springs in the winter tour earlier this season. Littler, national amateur champion three years ago, has been highly successful since he joined the pros. Bud Holscher is another who is doing right well in the cash ranks.

Frank Stranahan, who only recently turned to the pro ranks, also will participate. Stranahan, as an amateur, won the 1947 Kansas City Open.

As an added feature this year, Hoot Oomis, president, announced that Paul Hahn, world famous trick shot artist, will be in charge of the clinic on May 16, the day preceding the opening round. He also will demonstrate his many trick shots.

Ohio State has been the leading producer of football players for the Cleveland Browns. The Buckeyes have had 16 players with the pro champions.

Red Sox 6, Yanks 4

BOSTON, April 28 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke the Yankee jinx with a 6-4 victory over New York today on Mickey Vernon's two-run homer and the fine relief pitching of rookie Dave Sisler, the pride of Princeton.

The contest was played under protest by Yankee manager Casey Stengel, after Mickey Mantle's eighth inning drive off the top of the center field wall was ruled no home run by second base umpire Ed Rommel.

The victory broke a five-game Sox losing streak and was Boston's first over New York in five tries this season.

With Boston ahead 5-3 in the eighth, Mantle followed a Gerry Coleman walk with his controversial drive. The ball bounced high in the air and back to the playing field. Jackie Jensen grabbed it and threw it to third-holding Mantle to a triple.

Did the ball hit the top of the wall or land in the seats and bounce out?

Stengel stormed Rommel waving his cap, followed by many of the players from the bench. Casey got thumped out. Yogi Berra fled out to end the inning.

A 4-1 winner over the Orioles in his last outing, Pascual spent an apprehensive afternoon despite his personal strikeouts and batting achievements. He allowed nine hits and spent much time in trouble as the Senators committed three errors behind him.

Chicago Cards Sign Colorado U. Griddler

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP)—Tackle Sam Salerno of Colorado University has been signed by the Chicago Cardinals, managing director Walter Wolfner announced today.

Salerno, a 6-2, 240-pound Big Seven wrestling champion, is from Trinidad, Colo. He was the Cardinals' fourth draft choice in the National Football League last January.

Salerno is the third Colorado U. griddler to join the Cards for 1956. The others are guard Bill Kucero and center, Don Karnosack. Halfback Frank Bernardi played for the Cards in 1955 after starring for Colorado in 1953 and 1954.

Muscular Strain Puts Braves' Red Murff Inactive Temporarily

MILWAUKEE, April 28 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves learned today that Red Murff, their $40,000 "rookie" righthander, will be lost to the club for at least a week and probably longer due to a muscular strain in his lower back.

The 34-year-old alumnus of the Texas League is the Braves' second top-drawer righthander to be sidelined this spring. The club placed Gene Conley on the disabled list Wednesday until May 25 while he recovers from a strained tendon in his pitching shoulder.

Murff is suffering from what a specialist described as "lumbo-sacral strain" and will be kept in traction in Milwaukee Hospital for a week.

Santee Runs 4:12.6 Mile In Norfolk Relays

NORFOLK, Va., April 28 (AP)—Wes Santee, his field weakened by the threat of Amateur Athletic Union reprisals against anyone competing, ran a disappointing 4:12.6 mile today in the climatic event of the third annual Norfolk Virginian-Pilot relays.

Just before the start of the special "military mile," two members of the six-man field dropped out, including Walt Clarkson, former Dartmouth ace now competing for the Camp LeJeune Marines.

Apparently angered by the AAU's action, Santee called on a crowd of 8,000 persons—largest ever to see a track meet in Virginia—to "back him, Clarkson as well as the rest of us."

North-South Tournery Title To Robbins

PINEHURST, N. C., April 28 (AP)—Lanky Hillman Robbins sent home a five-foot putt on the 36th hole to match a bogey five by Bill Hyndman today and won the North and South Amateur golf tournament, 1 up.

As the deciding putt found its mark the 24-year-old Robbins, a Memphis, Tenn., automobile salesman, dropped slowly to his knees and raised his arms in relief. He had missed several critical putts considerably shorter during the afternoon round.

It was significant that a bogey was good enough to win the match. Both Hyndman, a 40-year-old Abington, Pa., insurance man, and Robbins, whom he defeated in the semifinals of the National Amateur tournament last year, showed the stain of playing eight rounds in six days over the unyielding No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club, a 7,000-yarder with par of 72.

Robbins had approximate medal rounds of 78 on each trip. Hyndman made it in 76-80.

Freak Hiway Mishap Hurts One Person

A freak accident on U.S. Highway 50, about a mile west of LaMonte, resulted in injuries to one person, and damages to the motor of one vehicle and the windshield of another. The accident occurred about 3:15 p.m. Saturday.

Frank Spillman, 50, of 4010 Troost, Kansas City, was driving his 1951 Mercury sedan east on the highway, and S-Sgt. Raymond Masek, 20, Whiteman AFB, was going west on the highway. About the time the cars were passing going in the opposite direction Spillman noted some noise in the motor. He turned off the motor as he pulled to the shoulder.

Down the highway a short distance S-Sgt. Masek was stopped on the shoulder. Sgt. Masek has a windshield which had two large holes in it and the right front headlight knocked out. Neither car had struck the other, but when Spillman started investigating his noise, he found the shaft from the camshaft which drives the fan belt had crystallized, and broke loose and the housing on the timing gears knocked to pieces.

It seems as the cars were passing the troubles for Spillman began. A piece of steel about four inches long struck the pavement then bounced into the air hitting the windshield as did another piece knocking a smaller hole in the windshield and still another which broke the headlight.

Walking back to about where the smaller pieces of steel were found numerous other smaller pieces of steel were found on the highway. The Mercury was towed to Ralph Hamlin's Service Station, and Sgt. Masek drove on to the base where he received treatments for his cuts.

"I've seen a lot of accidents, but this is the first time I ever saw anything like this," remarked Trooper Pete Stohr who with Trooper Robert Stockell investigated the incident.

Many Of Them Little Known

Number Of Tree Varieties
Found In Missouri Runs HighBy Mrs. R. A. Enoch
Garden Club No. 9

To mention Missouri woodlands usually brings to mind the elms, maples, and the oaks. This latter tree group has some 20 varieties growing naturally throughout the state, varying from the common red and pin oaks which are found profusely, to the rare scarlet oak which is found in Southeastern Missouri. However, with the greatly diversified topography existing in the state, it is not at all surprising to find that the widespread variety of trees greatly exceeds one's expectancy, and that many of these trees are little known.

Trees are planted not only for shade, shape and blossom, but also for the by-product of the blossom which presents itself as a berry, nut or seed pod, which will prove to be attractive to the birds.

Each spring as the peddler brings in sassafras roots, one is reminded of finding the lowly sassafras during childhood woodland jaunts. With its varied mitten type leaves, this tree is worthy of consideration. Not only do the wood and leaves have a highly aromatic characteristic when bruised, but its yellow flowers and blue berries are also fragrant. This tree sprouts so easily that dense thickets of saplings are found near the wooded areas. Some of the older trees are found to have grown to a height of eighty to ninety feet, having good sturdy trunks, and having attained a most respectable age. This common little tree is the one which early explorers sought so fervently as it was highly desired in Europe for its medicinal brew which we know as sassafras tea.

As the sassafras is steeped with legend, so is the Red Bud or Judas tree. Most persons know the red bud as a cultivated shrub or small tree, but it grows rampant in its wild state, usually under the sheltering limbs of the larger trees.

Perhaps the best known of the flowering trees is the flowering dogwood. It is interesting to note, however, that growing in this state there are also the alternate leaved dog-wood and the rough leaved dog-wood. Although all three forms of this tree produce tiny clustering flowers, and later clusters of berries, only the well known Cornus Florida has the petal like bracts surrounding the true flowering of the tree.

The yellow wood or Cladrastis lutea is quite rare, even though it is said to be easily transplanted. Due to its drought resistant characteristics it should make a durable tree, and should be more sought after. Other factors in favor of the yellow wood are its fragrant white flowers which blossom in June, the light airy appearance of the leaves, and the smooth, silvery gray bark.

Many people are not aware of the fact that one of our most glamorous trees, the American holly, or Ilex opaca, is native to southeastern Missouri. It is said to do very well under cultivation in all parts of the state, as it is hardy and not too demanding of the soil in which it is placed. In time and under proper conditions, it can attain a height of forty to fifty feet. However, to have the gay red holly berries develop for Christmas use, both male and female trees must be planted. During the barren winter months these brilliant berries attract and give food to many birds thus an additional pleasure can be gained from the planting of this tree.

Although some of the native trees have undesirable characteristics, each has at least one redeeming factor in its favor. The common Juniper or Eastern red cedar has a beautiful blue berry which follows its whitish bloom. The soapberry, Sapindus Drummondii, often confused with the Chinaberry tree has an off-white flowering cluster. Consequently, in considering a tree for planting under the semi-drought conditions which have existed here for the past few years, one might well look to trees which have stood the tests of countless years, perhaps even under more severe weather than now prevails.

Two Missouri Men
Get Carnegie Hero
Commission Medals

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two Kansans and two Missouri men were among 19 persons cited yesterday by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for heroism.

Each will receive a bronze medal.

The Kansans are John R. Ryan, 21, of Winfield and Darrel E. Huddleston, 13 of Augusta, Missouri. Those honored are D. Paul Henson, who lives near Fredericktown, and Walter W. Kragh, 50, of Overland. Ryan, a utility company lineman, saved the life of a fellow employee who accidentally touched a live wire. Young Huddleston rescued a drowning 12-year-old boy, and sought unsuccessfully to save the life of another youngster.

Henson, a driller in a lead mine, carried two workers to safety after they were injured in a premature dynamite explosion. The full charge exploded a full second later and would have buried the two men beneath tons of rock and dirt.

Kragh helped pull pilot Amos B.

Gives New Version
Of How Police
Station Was Riddled

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An attorney for Police Chief James H. Webber of suburban Berkeley has offered a second version of how the Berkeley police station happened to be shot up last month.

Clifford A. Falzone, the attorney, said the police chief suffered a slight heart attack and possibly a stroke, blacked out and found himself firing his pistol when he "suddenly came to."

Previously Webber, who is under treatment for feloniously leaving the scene of a traffic accident in Berkeley Feb. 2, had said a gun which had been seized in a raid twice went out of control and fired repeatedly while he was examining it.

Falzone said Webber "gave out the first story on impulse because the truth was too fantastic to believe."

Webber has requested a 60-day leave of absence with pay. He said in a letter to the Berkeley mayor he needs the time to recover his health. "I feel it would be better," he said, "that I not take part in police functions during the period."

Soil erosion has forced U. S. farmers to abandon over 25 million acres of crop land. Average loss is 500,000 acres a year.

Over pumping of wells in Florida has led to seepage of sea water as far as eight miles inland in some places.

Regional Library Notes—

Boonslick Library Helps To Promote Mental Health Week

Boonslick Regional Library is co-operating with the Pettis County Medical Auxiliary in promoting Mental Health Week April 29-May 5.

A new book out by Mike Gorman, executive director of the National Mental Health Committee, "Every Other Bed", points out that every other bed in U. S. hospitals is occupied by a mental case. The cost, says Gorman, is 2½ billion dollars a year.

"A Manual of First Aid for Mental Health in Childhood and Adolescence" by Green and Rothenberg is an easily understood parental guide for handling minor disturbances. Emotional crises caused by death of friends, fear of darkness, and sex fears are discussed. The time and the method for calling in professional help is emphasized.

Intelligent reading for anyone in understanding and controlling the human emotional problems is "Emotional Problems of Living, Avoiding the Neurotic Pattern" by two doctors, O. S. English and G. H. Pearson. A pamphlet "Toward Mental Health" by George Thorman, is a concise analysis of the problem and certain solutions. Dr. Bender who is director of the Nott Institute for Human Relations, has an answer to mental disturbances in his book, "How to Sleep".

The importance of the spiritual needs to mental health is quite definitely recognized and we recommend authors like Norman Vincent Peale, Fulton J. Sheen, Harry Emerson Fosdick, C. S. Lewis, Ralph W. Sockman, and Fulton Oursler. Works by these authors and the other books mentioned are available at your county library. It also can obtain good films on mental health for you from the Missouri Department of Health.

Preliminary Design
Is Reported for New Type of Atom Smasher

WASHINGTON (AP) — A preliminary design has been reported for a new type atom smashing machine theoretically capable of achieving energies at least 4½ times greater than any other in existence — and doing it more cheaply and efficiently.

In fact, said Dr. Gerald K. O'Neill, a Princeton University physicist, if it is found possible to apply the idea to a 25-billion-electron volt machine such as is being built at Brookhaven, N. Y., by the Atomic Energy Commission, an even more tremendous expansion is possible.

He said immediate prospects are better for applying the new idea to a three-billion-electron volt machine like the one authorized for construction by Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania. The new type would raise its capabilities to the equivalent of 30 billion electron volts —BEV.

Sedalia Girl To Direct In Song Fete

Miss Shirley Kirkpatrick, Sedalia, Delta Sigma Epsilon, and Miss Jane Johnson, Green Ridge, will direct two of the sorority groups at Central Missouri State College to participate in the all Greek song fete at Warrensburg Wednesday evening, May 2.

It will be the 16th annual event of its kind and will start at 8 p.m. at Hendrick's Hall at the college. The sponsors are the alumnae of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority.

Some 200 women students from five sororities have competed the last 15 years for the much-sought trophy. A highlight of campus events, the song fete attracted the attention of the four men's fraternities on the campus, which have joined the competition.

Other competing sororities and their directors are: Pi Kappa Sigma, Bonnie Beisenherz, Concordia; Theta Sigma Upsilon, Shirlee Chambers, Chillicothe; and Sigma Sigma Sigma, Marilyn Brown, Warrensburg.

Some 190 men are competing for the cup in the men's division. Groups competing and their directors are: Kappa Sigma Kappa, Bruce Jeans, Pleasant Hill; Phi Sigma Epsilon, Bill Grace, Concordia; Sigma Tau Gamma, Stan Small, Stover; and Tau Kappa Epsilon, Tom Walters, Kansas City.

The Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority won the cup for the third time in succession so they retain permanent possession of it. The Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity has won the men's cup the last two years, and if they should win again this year, they will retain it permanently.

Dr. George W. Diemer, president of the College will present the cups as he announces the judge's decisions.

Mrs. William Mayfield of Centerville, is president of the alumnae chapter. Miss Elizabeth Daniel, Kansas City, is the national president of the sorority and Mrs. Albert E. McClean, Warrensburg, is chairman of the song fete. The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity is in charge of staging and lighting.

Go to Kansas City

A group of 29 members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Warsaw Methodist Church and their sponsors went to Kansas City, Saturday, April 21, to tour the educational sites of the city and also held a picnic lunch at Swope Park. The purpose of the outing was to attend the Ice Capades Saturday night at the K.C. Municipal Auditorium.

Flowers Serve to Beautify Spring Fabrics

Roses of all varieties are popular motifs this spring, both for clothing and undergarments. A short formal dress (left) of pure silk shantung has wild roses growing, trellis-like, up the skirt and over the shoulders. Under such empire lines goes a latex-and-cotton girdle with no-roll control at the waist (center). It has posies all over it. Dorothy Perkins roses are printed all over a daytime cotton costume (right). Sheath has empire cut, jacket, with wide collar, stops short at the waist.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A man can scarcely tell his wife from a flower garden this spring. The hat from under which she peers is bedecked with flowers. Roses run riot over her dress. Tiny rosebuds are on her gloves and scarf.

The floral motif blooms anew each spring, but this year roses hold the horticulture prize in the fashion world. The femininity of roses and their limitless possibilities for light, fresh colors make them popular with designers and buyers alike.

The slim, ultrafeminine lines in clothes this year seem to go naturally with blurred rose prints or slim stalks and tiny bud prints. Embroidered roses add a texture interest to the theme.

One thing that doesn't go well with roses is lumps. The dainty, curly, ornate lines of a rose print demand slim, smooth lines underneath. A trellis of roses only emphasizes a midriff bulge, if one is present.

To take care of the bulge problem for women who want to wear empire lines and all the other stalk-slim lines, a leading manufacturer has come up with a boneless, stayless girdle of cotton and latex. This model has the nonroll top indispensable to the empire midriff.

And, to make it perfect for wear with rosy styles, this girdle is patterned with embossed roses.

nice fragrance and a soothing effect that Mom will enjoy on her own hands.

If baby's bath is studied until the right formula for his enjoyment is found, pretty soon you'll have difficulty getting him out of the tub—and sometimes this can be almost as big a problem as getting him into it.

A baby who insists on staying in the tub may always be eased out by letting the water drain out while baby is still in it. He'll soon know that when the water is "all gone" the bath is over.

Ex-Sedalian's Son Honored For Research

A signal honor has recently been conferred upon Dr. and Mrs. Fred Couey of Montgomery, Ala., by the Surgeon-General of the United States in the form of a research grant of over a third of a million dollars. Dr. Couey is a nephew of E. W. Couey, 1020 West Fourth. His father, the late Will Couey, was a former Sedalian.

The grant, the largest ever made for a single study of this kind, is for a six-year study of nursing education in hospitals. It will be conducted in Atlanta, Ga., in five hospital schools. Atlanta has been selected as the site of the national study because it contains nursing schools of several types which have cooperated for over a decade in an integrated program through Georgia State College.

Some five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Couey founded Couey and Couey, Educational Consultants, with headquarters in Montgomery. This is the first organization of its kind in the United States, being devoted to research and training in the field of adult and professional education. Dr. Couey was director of research in human resources for the United States Air Force at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, prior to establishing the consultant agency.

This is the first major grant which has been made to the new organization but it is indicative of the type and scope of project which will be sought. At the present time, proposals have been drawn up for some 20 research studies, involving more than two million dollars in funds. These studies cover a wide range of problems, relative to industry, government, and education. Each study will have a project staff headed by a top educational consultant and will run from three to five years or more.

Dr. Couey's mother, Mrs. Ida Couey, resides in Trinidad, Colo., where Dr. Couey grew up. He was graduated from the Colorado College and obtained his master's degree from Colorado State College of Education and his Doctorate from the University of Washington, Seattle. His wife obtained a mas-

Your Wardrobe

by Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

In just a few weeks there will be many girls looking for their first job. Good grooming is very essential when you go to apply for a job as well as continuing the practice after you have acquired your job. First of all, wear a becoming simple suit, or casual dress or smart separates. Be sure they are clean and nicely pressed. Have your hair shining clean and becomingly styled, but not exaggerated. Use make-up but avoid having a heavy paste finish. Wear simple jewelry that will complete your outfit, yet not draw attention to any specific piece. Don't have long claw-like nails, especially if you are applying for office work. Keep them short, rounded and clean. Wear shoes that are comfortable and smart-looking but not dancing shoes. Heavy perfume is not becoming especially early in the morning, so use a delicate cologne. It is smart to go job hunting in the morning, don't stay long, and thank whoever you spoke to for their time. Good-grooming and being appropriately but not expensively dressed has helped acquire many a job, so check on yourself before starting out.

While the bride and groom knelt at the altar after exchanging their wedding vows, she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over bridal satin which was fashioned with a snug bodice and long tapering sleeves of lace. The scoop neckline was edged with stitching in a scallop design. The skirt, gathered at the low waistline, was formed of two layers of tulle over satin. The underneath skirt featured six pointed lace panels which descended almost to the hem, and showed through the overskirt. Her bridal headpiece was a coronet of matching lace, embroidered with sequins and outlined with seed pearls, from which fell a fingertip length double illusion veil. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Verne Reid, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Shemwell, wore identical dresses of pale turquoise nylon organza with sash and streamers of deep turquoise. The sleeveless bodice had a square neckline, and the full skirt was fanned over layers of taffeta and organza. Their headpieces were bandeaus of matching color and they carried bouquets of yellow and of pink carnations.

Ervin Miesner, brother-in-law of the groom served as best man and Floyd Dickson, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. The ushers were Wray Young, Dean Meeter, Earl Dillon and Charles Hoard.

Miss Faye Reid, sister of the bride, and Miss Donna Jean Martin, sister of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers. Their dresses were identical and made of yellow nylon over yellow satin. Their headpieces were made of white flowers and they wore wrist corsages of white flowers tied with bows of yellow ribbon.

Little Miss Janice Martin, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and was dressed in yellow dotted Swiss, made with full three-tiered skirt. She wore a small white hat.

Miss Margie Sutherland, cousin of the bride, had charge of the guest book. Her dress was of ice blue and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Reid chose a navy crepe dress with a navy hat and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Martin also wore a navy dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held after the ceremony, in the church basement with approximately 150 guests present. The room was decorated with baskets of yellow mums and forsythia. The bride's table was covered with a cream lace cloth over yellow and two yellow tapers were on either side of the three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded by yellow daffodils. Miss Shirley Klein, Mrs. B. F. Mahnen and Mrs. William Erling were in charge of the gift table. Miss Bonnie Merk and Mrs. Billie Estes served at the bride's table.

After the reception, the couple left for a short trip. For traveling the bride wore a rose nylon dress, with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the Smithton High School and is presently employed in the office of Town and Country. The groom graduated from the Green Ridge High School and is employed in the Ralph Hamlin Service Station. They will be at home in an apartment at 604 West Sixth Street, Sedalia.

Miss Ernestine Rodgers, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Rodgers, 2001 East Tenth, announce the engagement to Capt. Roy J. Weinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Weinberg, McHenry, Illinois. The wedding is planned for May 5.

Lists General Pet Beliefs On Radio, TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—After almost a year of working in the television and radio vineyards I've decided that — with some notable exceptions —

Directors and writers are the most articulate people in the industry.

Producers are the biggest name-droppers and table-hoppers.

Actors eat more and worry less about it than anybody.

Actresses eat less and worry more about it than anybody.

Actors and salesmen drink more than most; salesmen brag more about their capacities, but almost any good actor can drink any good salesman under the table.

English actresses are the most difficult subjects American reporters ever try to interview.

Comedians have bigger egos than anybody — except their writers. No gag writer can leave a room without dropping a punch line. When two or more are assembled in the same room it's a scramble to see who gets in the departing line.

Singers and musicians live in a world of their own and don't care too much about any other world.

Cameramen and technicians are the quietest and most perceptive of men. They view the stars wryly — and keep the stars on their courses.

Nobody believes in ratings — until the ratings show his team is ahead.

About half the people in this industry have quit smoking cigarettes in the past couple of years — and are very proud of it. The other half are smoking more than ever — and are not worrying about it.

Except for actresses and secretaries, this is largely a man's world. The few women in it often seem ill at ease. This, I believe, is because they do not wear hats to lunch.

Everybody says it's a hard, driving life. But nobody voluntarily retires from it. The funerals of those released from it almost invariably are quiet, poorly attended affairs.

Speaking of release, I need a vacation. So I'm heading for Italy. When I find a Tuscan hill town where they don't know what "TV" means, I'll settle down and stay a while.

Asks Wrong Question

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It was out of the frying pan and into the fire for this Cook.

The judge told William E. Cook that he could serve out a 10-day sentence, for disorderly conduct, on weekends and so keep his job.

The judge went on to say the penalty could have been $100 and 30 days in jail.

"Well, why don't you do it then," said Cook.

And that's just what the judge did.

Citizens of Monte Carlo pay no income tax.

In 70 per cent of all fatal automobile accidents, one or both drivers violated one or more safety laws.

Algeria has an area of 852,600 are in the Saharan zone.

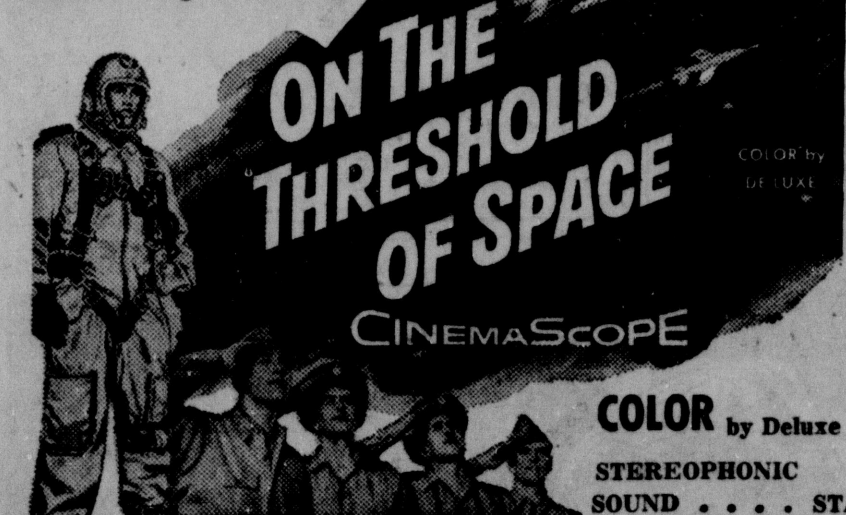

Infernal idiots are the other people who happen to be on the highway when you are.

Current TV Presentations Discussed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Thoughts while swimming the TV channels: Alfred Hitchcock Presents may miss now and then, as it did last Sunday, but you've got to give the old boy E for effort. He often comes up with a thought-provoking shocker. The other half-hour filmed dramas on TV are generally innocuous soap operas. . . .

Jackie Gleason is too fine a talent to limit himself to The Honeymooners. 'Twould be great to see him as Reggie Van Gleason again. And Art Carney is too talented to be stuck as the oafish Ed Norton. . . .

Good news: That Omnibus will be on ABC from 9 to 10:30 p.m. Sundays next season. The Sunday afternoon time is rugged for those who have to mow lawns, etc. . . .

Few shows have captured the juvenile fancy as strongly as the "Spin and Marty" serial on the Mickey Mouse Club. It's on reruns now and stronger than ever.

Definition of The $64,000 Challenge: A live rerun. It's too mechanical and lacks the drama of The $64,000 Question. . . .

TV takes its toll. A few years ago, Milton Berle and Arthur Godfrey were the kings of TV. Now Berle will do only four shows next season and Godfrey has dropped his Wednesday night program. . . .

George Gobel's shows have improved after a rocky start this season. . . .

Pet peeve: Hour dramas about overwrought females. Like last Sunday's TV Playhouse. . . .

Few family comedy programs are as easy to take as the Ozzie and Harriet show. . . .

Some of the new old movies on TV are disillusioning. I remember "Tom, Dick and Harry" as a hilarious comedy. Now it looks strained and unfunny. . . .

Fellows we can do without: those guys who shout at you about car bargains between reels of the movies.

There will be openings on the staff for special editors, typists, business assistants, and artists. 4-H Round-Up withBOB MASON
Pettis County Asst. AgentRural Urban Dinner

Twenty five 4-H Clubs were represented at the Rotary Rural-Urban Dinner which recognized 4-H clubs and their community leaders. Mr. Robert S. Clough, State 4-H Club Agent, was the featured speaker, and I thought the most impressive statement he made was relative to junior leaders and older club members. It was this — "I believe that to make the 4-H program satisfactory to older 4-H boys and girls we must give them some responsibilities."

I wholeheartedly agree with this statement, but I wonder how many of our members enrolled in the junior leadership project are getting all the responsibility that they would like to have. I fully realize that this can be over-done but in some cases I'm afraid it's under-done.

The dinner meeting was a very wonderful opportunity for individual members and leaders to sound off for 4-H and from what conversation I heard the 4-H word was well spread. Two of Pettis county's fine 4-H'ers provided the audience with some fine entertainment. Willa Ann Sawford, Smithton 4-H, gave a humorous reading and Cathy DeBord, Hughesville 4-H, played two nice solos on her accordion.

4-H Livestock Show

The date for the 1956 4-H Livestock Show has been set for Monday, August 13 at the Swine Pavilion on the State Fair Grounds. The general superintendents for the '56 show are E. H. Gregory and Paul Read. The other superintendents are: Swine, Joe Bill Reid and Charles Reine; Sheep, Merle Templeton and Jack Alfrey; Beef Cattle, Leonard DeBord and Walter Werneke; Dairy Cattle, Ernest Schlobohm and J. W. Raines; and Poultry, J. L. Thompson and R. C. Wissman.

The planning committee voted also to include 4-H Field Crop displays in the show this year and the superintendents in charge of this are Bob Welliver and Hubert Finley. There will be no cash premiums offered in this section but ribbons will be awarded and selections for State Fair entries made. Due to the season of the year these entries will be largely small grains. Those 4-H members enrolled in
